project delivery services.*

ASTORIA PROPERTIES is the development affiliate of Opechee Construction Corporation. Opechee is a professional design-build firm with 28 years experience in the design and construction of office, institutional, hospitality, industrial and commercial facilities throughout New England. Opechee and Astoria compose a team of architects, engineers, real estate professionals, construction project managers and legal counsel, all working together under one roof to provide a comprehensive range of integrated development and design-build project delivery services. This integrated approach allows us to develop, permit and build facilities faster and more economically than competitors who rely on separate engineers, architects, lawyers, and contractors, each with their own agenda and profit in mind.

Since its inception in 1999, Astoria has developed nineteen projects totaling almost a million square feet of commercial, industrial, office and institutional space. These include build-to-suit projects for lease and for sale, condominium and multi-tenant developments, commercial subdivisions and mixed-use projects. Astoria is a licensed New Hampshire brokerage firm, but we are involved only in the marketing of our own properties.

Astoria is headed by Greg Kirsch, who brings an array of real estate, construction, legal and business experience to the development process. Mr. Kirsch graduated from Harvard College in 1980, and earned his M.B.A. (1984) and J.D. (1994) from the University of Virginia. He is an active member of the New Hampshire Bar, a licensed commercial real estate broker, and has been involved in real estate and construction since 1986.
